DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 04/13/06, 08/24/07 and 10/09/07 is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Abe (US PG Pub 2002/0021725 A1).
5. In re claim 1, Abe discloses a two-beam semiconductor laser device comprising: a two-beam semiconductor element (laser diode 14a, shown in figure 7) having a first and a second semiconductor laser elements (LD 1 and LD2) that can be driven independently and that are formed integrally on a substrate (30); and a submount (13) having, mounted on a front part thereof, the two-beam semiconductor laser element with a light-emitting face (active layer 33 for LD1 and active layer 38 for LD2) thereof directed forward and having a first and a second electrode pads (13a) connected to electrodes of the first and second semiconductor laser element by being kept in contact therewith, wherein the first and second electrode pads are formed to extend farther behind the two-beam semiconductor laser element (electrode 13a has been extended behind the laser diode 14a, shown in figure 8A), and are wire-bonded behind the two-beam semiconductor laser element (shown in figure 8A) (paragraph [0131] – paragraph [137]).

6. In re claim 2, Abe discloses wherein the first and second electrode pads are wire-bonded at a rear end of the submount (see figure 8A).

7. In re claim 4, Abe discloses wherein a lateral length of the submount is 400 μm or more but 700 μm or less (Figure 8B has disclosed that the two emitting point is 100 μm apart which is roughly less $\frac{1}{4}$ of the lateral length or width of the submount; therefore, the submount is more than about 400 μm).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abe (US PG Pub 2002/0021725 A1).

10. In re claim 3, Abe has disclosed the claimed invention except wherein a distance from the rear end of the two-beam semiconductor laser element to a position where the first and second electrode pads are wire-bonded is 300 μm or shorter. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the distance between the electrode pad that are wire-bonded and rear end of the two-bam semiconductor laser element of Abe with a range of 300 μm or less, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233 MPEP 2144.05 (II-A)

11. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abe (US PG Pub 2002/0021725 A1) in view of Honda et al (US Patent 6,885,076 B2).

12. In re claim 5, Abe has disclosed the claimed invention above except a package composed of a frame and a resin member. However, Honda et al disclose a semiconductor laser package composed of individual lead leads (lead frame 2) are put together by the insulating resin member (5) as to form a lead frame package (col. 4 lines 19-26). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the semiconductor laser device of Abe with a package composed of a frame and a resin member as taught by Honda et al in order to obtain protection for the laser element.

13. In re claim 6, Honda et al disclose wherein the two-beam semiconductor laser device is built as a three-terminal two-beam semiconductor laser device having three terminals (lead frame 2 containing three thermals 7, 6b and 8).
